The Creative Directory provides the perfect interactive marketing space for creative service providers

The Creative Directory at www.enjin.co.za is an online directory of creative agencies and service providers – a creative handbook for the industry which showcases leading agencies, image suppliers, photographers, illustrators and other creative service providers.

Creative Directory entries are managed with a log-in system, which allows agencies or their communication providers an easily updatable, custom-designed communication space, including image libraries, video, audio, product reviews, events, promotions, profiles and more.

New blog entries are promoted on the ENJIN website as well as in the newsletter.
